Selectboard Meeting Minutes

March 9, 2020

UNAPPROVED

The meeting was called to order at 6:00pm.

Present: Robert Allen, Gordy Eastman, Calista Brennan, Glen Towne, Garrett Neill, Karl Hansen, Heather Evans, David Appleton, Annie Rubright, John Fike, Lisa Kaija and Marie Anderson Robert started the meeting asking if there were changes to the agenda. No changes. Minutes of the February 10, 2020 Selectboard meeting were approved as printed.

Treasurer's Report: As of 2/29/2020, Expenses were $66,681.42, Revenue was $6,108.31, and the balance in Mascoma is $817,255.21. Delinquent taxes for 2018 and 2019 are $43,412.06. Gordy moved to approve and Robert seconded. Calista said that a couple had paid off after the report was printed. Report is accepted.

Action Items:

OTHER: Robert started with other as there were several people in attendance. Garret Neill s ready to start on the Robinson Hall siding work this month. He gave a payment schedule to the Selectboard, so that he can get the material.

John Fike told board that the statewide parcel mapping was complete. He has been looking at the system and is concerned about the timing of updates at the State level.

Marie Anderson wanted to know if it was ok to have an outside celebration for the 50th Green Up day at the Town Hall. The board didn't see any problems with that. She also wanted to ask the board about changing their meeting so that the board could go to the school board meetings. Calista said that the school board was looking to changing their meeting. The Selectboard decided to wait and see what the school board does. Heather asked that the school board meeting be put on the calendar in the Informer.

Annie asked if the roads are posted, and large trucks create damage, could the Town recoup the cost of fixing the roads. Robert explained that obviously there is a procedure, however, he was not sure of the exact details. It was also mentioned that it becomes a problem with who really created the damage unless caught 'in the act' as some trucks are allowed on posted roads.

Food Shelf Emergency Generator: Robert received an email from Dana Waters, president of the Food Shelf asking if they could use the Town's propane account for running a generator. The board agreed to allow them to use the account. We will look into billing them for the usage or increasing the yearly rent. Calista will email Dana and let him know.

MRGP (Municipal Road General Permit) Report: The road inventory has been done so Robert will file the report.

Highways: Glen said the road were all in good shape as of now. There haven't been any truck issues recently. Robert said that the paperwork for a grant for paving will be submitted, but he did not think that Reading would be receiving any grant money again this year.

EAB (Emerald Ash Borer) Road Inventory: Glen will be attending the meeting in Ludlow March 10th. He will then get together with Hannah Dallas to go over what should be done in Reading.

Resolution regarding 2nd Amendment of the US Constitution: David Appleton has talked with Gordy about this and wanted to bring it to the Selectboard. Gordy explained that this was a nonbinding resolution about the right to bear arms. Other Towns in the State have voted to sign this and others have voted it down. The Selectboard voted to table this until more information is available.

Liquor License – Keepers Restaurant and Reading Greenhouse: The licenses were signed.

Appointment of Town Officials: This was tabled until Jim could be present with the exception of signing the resolution to appoint representatives to the EC Fiber board. John Malcolm will continue to represent Reading, with Bill Bakker and Gerry Marletta as alternates.

Elect Chair of the Selectboard: This was tabled until Jim could be present.

Other: No additional business was brought up.

The meeting adjourned at 7:00pm Next Selectboard meeting will be on Monday, April 13, 2020

Respectfully Submitted, Calista N Brennan, Town Clerk

Reading Planning Commission Meeting
March 9, 2020 – unapproved, abbreviated minutes
Detailed minutes are available on the Town Website

Present: Stephen Strait, Ken Cox, Kevin Kaija, Kurt Voight, Kathy Callan-Rondeau, Jason Rasmussen, Jean Goldsborough. Guests: Brian Aspell, Penny Allyn, John Fike, Bill Bakker, Robert Allen, Gordy Eastman.

The meeting was called to order at 7:03 pm.

1. Changes to the Agenda – Stephen requested public discussions first before the PC’s remaining agenda.
2. The PC hosted a Public Discussion on “Future Trends” for Reading and address issues such as changing demographics for all age groups, changing property values, real estate trends, affordable housing, local employment opportunities, etc. A few experts in these topics were invited. 2 of the 3 Listers attended to present.
  - A. John Fike/Penny Allyn, Listers – John gave some numbers to illustrate any changes or trends between 2010 and 2019. Overall Grand List reduced by 18% in the 10 years since the housing bubble bust in 2009. Total value of the town has gone down. Non-resident/Resident split is about 60/40.
  - B. Jason Rasmussen presented additional information. Population trends seem similar to many other area towns in the rural area. Trends show concerns referencing an aging population, lack of growth, need for more younger families, and fears about losing the school.
3. Approval of the minutes of the February meeting as they appear on the town’s website. Motion to approve Kurt, 2nd, unanimous.
4. Reports:
  - A. Regional Planning Commission activities (Kathy) - Next Meeting on 23rd. Will vote on the approval of Reading’s Town Plan (the re-adoption approved by Selectboard.)
  - B. Energy Committee (Kevin) – first meeting will be March 13th at 6pm at Fire Station.
5. Update on ways to record meeting discussions beyond written minutes - Jean reported approximate cost of external microphones, storing the audio files for PC and/or public, etc. Kurt made a motion to approach the Selectboard for permission to purchase a microphone. Seconded, all in favor.
7. Update on the Hall Foundation footbridge project - The current plan on the bridge is that it is going to go through more discussion before the applicant completes the permit for conditional use. More to be determined.
7. Other business. None.
8. Plans for the April meeting - The focus of the April Meeting will be the Utilities and Facilities chapter and Economic Development chapter. Jason will meet with PC members to discuss items for each chapter that they are working on.

Next PC Meeting –April 6th at 7 pm. Kathy’s motion to adjourn was seconded. Adjourned 8:36 pm.

Respectfully submitted,
Jean G. Goldsborough, Recorder

Regional Planning Commissions — Reading Home Survey What do you think about your home?

Maybe it's the perfect fit for you. Or maybe you think it's too big, too small, too expensive, too far from work or needs too much work. What do you think about the other homes in your neighborhood? No matter your answer, we want you to tell us about it.

The Keys to the Valley Team is a partnership of Three Regional Planning Commissions

- Southern Windsor County (VT)
- Two Rivers Ottauquechee (VT)
- Upper Valley Lake Sunapee (NH)

Take the Keys to the Valley Survey. Answering a few questions about your housing choices and experience living in the region will provide insight into where and what kinds of homes are needed in the region. You can access the survey on the Town of Reading website at: www.readingvt.govoffice.com

Enter the following internet link into your browser to access the survey.

The survey closes on April 30.

Reading Historical Society The Hamlets of Reading

If someone were to show you the outlines of a random town in Windsor County and asked you to identify it, you would be hard-pressed to do so. That's because two-thirds of the 21 outlines look almost identical. Reading's outline is one of those.

Blown up to real size, the square that represents our town is approximately six-miles by six-miles. At the pace I walk, I could probably trek from the Cavendish line to the Woodstock line in about two hours.

Reading is not huge. Neither is Woodstock or Barnard or Pomfret. Yet within these neat squares, there are hamlets. In Reading, for example, we have Hammondsville, South Reading, and Felchville. In present-day Vermont, as in other rural places, these names and places seem quaint. As geographic designations, they seem almost unnecessary. However, in times when travel wasn't as fast or convenient, they were bustling with businesses.

At the Reading Historical Society's Annual Meeting, held last month, Deborah Lee Luskin gave the presentation "Getting from Here to There: A History of Roads and Settlement in Vermont." In it, she talked about, among other things, these villages in rural towns. She noted that a lot of these hamlets are five miles distant from other, similar places. That is, they are a comfortable walking distance. From the border of Reading and Cavendish, Hammondsville, according to Google Maps, is 5.2 miles along Route 106. According to Gilbert A. Davis's first volume of Reading history, Hammondsville was along the road from Boston, Mass. to Woodstock. In 1822, William Hawkins built a hotel there.

Then along comes Felchville, coming into existence just a few years after Hawkins built his hotel. It is about five miles from South Reading, so perhaps William Felch, the village's founder, planned its placement using the "walking rule." Over time, it became the center of Reading (not Reading Center) in importance, business, and commerce. The hotel in Hammondsville is gone. Only Keeper's hints at the hamlet's former relevance. Businesses are gone from South Reading. Now from Felchville, you can drive south to Cavendish, arriving in minutes. You can drive north through Hammondsville to the Woodstock line in maybe 10 minutes. Or you can go west up Tyson Road to Plymouth in about 15 minutes. Just don't blink. These roads, every road in Vermont, has a history you may miss.

Librarian's Note

The Reading Public Library is again offering a free Seed Library to its patrons. Here's how it works.

Choose - Come and browse the library's vegetable, herb, and flower seed collection. Check some seeds out to yourself (up to 6 seed packets, 1 per plant type).

Grow - Take the seeds home and plant them in your garden.

Save (if you want to) - If you decide to save some seeds at the end of the season, let at least 3 plants of the same type go to seed. Harvest the seeds and return them to the library so others can use them next spring. Or keep the new seeds yourself to use in your own garden.

There are no penalties for not saving seeds. You're welcome to take seeds whether or not you harvest any. If you want to harvest some seeds but aren't sure how, we have resources available.

We subscribe to several children's magazines: Ask (arts & sciences for kids), Ladybug ("the magazine for young children"), National Geographic for Little Kids, and Ranger Rick. We keep several back issues of each, and these are available for checkout.

The library has a Kindle available for borrowing. Patrons must be at least 18 years old with a library account in good standing (no overdue materials).

As of this writing, the Hallowanukkah candle shines on. A reminder that the little battery-operated tealight has been burning since Halloween. The person whose guess is closest to the date the candle goes out will win a new book of his or her choosing, courtesy of the library. You can call, email, or come by the library to submit your guess.

Cordially,
Tony
